DECLARING FOR HARRISON.

Here is more cheer for the republicans. The State Journal says that T. C. Lund, secretary of the P. G. Mandt Manufacturing company, Stoughton, announces that he will vote for Harrison and Morton. He cannot swallow Cleveland's free trade doctrines. Mr. Lund has several times been mayor of the city and has held various other local offices. He was state superintendent of public property under Gov. Taylor, which position he resigned to take the secretaryship of the Mandt company. He has frequently been mentioned in connection with a democratic nomination on the state ticket, but would never consent to be a candidate. The defection is a great blow to the democracy in this par of the county. Mr. Lund is one of the best known Scandinavians in the state.

J. J. Cole, foreman of the Indianapolis Carworks, who has heretofore been a democrat, announces in an interview that he will vote the solid republican ticket this year. Mr. Cole says: "I am not leaving the democratic party—it is leaving me. Since 1860 I have voted the democratic ticket, and I can say one thing but few men can. As long as I have been a voter I have never scratched a ticket. Never in my life have I voted even for a republican councilman or constable.

Four hundred and twenty gentlemen connected with H. B. Claflin & Co.'s dry goods house in New York have subscribed to the Harrison and Morton club. There are 450 employed by the firm.

Among the fifty-four republicans of Oneida county, New York, who signed a pledge to support Mr. Cleveland four years ago only five stand by him to-day, and thirty-eight have unhesitatingly declared themselves for Harrison.

William R. Grace, who for years has been a leading democrat in Brooklyn, New York, and did hard work on the stump for Cleveland four years ago, is working just as hard against him now, and says that a vast majority of the working men in his district are going to vote for Harrison and protection.

R. L. Martin, superintendent of the Fairchance Furnace company of Uniontown, Pa., is one of the recent comers. Mr. Martin has been one of the most prominent and active democrats in the county until the present campaign when he is unable to follow his party on the tariff question.

There is a vacancy in the Indianapolis democratic central committee. One of its members, being obliged to leave the city recently, told Chairman Taggart that he knew a young man, "a fine fellow and a great democrat," who would act as his substitute. Taggart agreed to the arrangement. The next day, instead of an ardent young committeeman, Taggart received this note: "The committeemen of my precinct wanted me to act for him in his absence. I used to be a democrat, but this year I not only intend to vote for Harrison but the entire republican ticket. I cannot serve as a democratic central committeeman."

DEMOCRATIC TROUBLE IN NEW YORK.

The nomination of Hill in New York, for governor, places the democracy of that state in a very unpleasant condition. The better class of democrats have very good reason to feel outraged by the nomination of Hill. He is one of the "unterrified," a man who will stoop not only to political dishonesty, but will step down to moral degradation as well. When Hill was nominated, the New York Times, an administration organ, said: "From such uncleanliness as the New York democracy put upon itself at Buffalo yesterday, (in nominating Hill) there is but one purification—the fires of defeat." But the Times does not stop its criticism with this sentence. It then goes on to show the degrading influences that were used to bring about Hill's nomination:

The action of the convention was determined in advance by retail merchants gamblers and political vagabonds, and its proceedings were visibly guided by men of evil repute whom Governor Hill reckons among his confidential advisers and agents.

The New York Herald, not a mugwump but an old-time democratic paper, and a warm supporter of Cleveland, will violently oppose the election of Hill on the ground that he is politically corrupt and is in league with the gamblers, rogues and thieves of New York.

The New York Post, another Cleveland organ, which has been made to grow sick over Hill's nomination, is constrained to say: "There are thousands of voters in the state to day who are inclined to vote for Cleveland and tariff reform, but who will, since Governor Hill has been renominated, turn in sheer disgust from a party which is capable of such an act and vote both the national and state republican tickets."

As to how much help the republicans of New York may expect to receive from the mugwumps and the democrats, the following from the Times is authority.

When a great party thus plays the fool it behooves the community to take prompt measures to make it a small party, impotent to do the harm it plans. This is the task set before the republicans of New York, and in performing it they will have the aid in campaign effort and in votes of the independents and of a great number of democrats of character and standing who are disgusted with Hill's nomination.

There is hardly any better condition of things for the democrats existing in Connecticut, and certainly the prospects are not brighter for them in Indiana. The democratic party is ill-fated this year. No accident can save it from defeat.

TWO SHOTS, NOT OF A KIND.

There is a disagreement between two advocates of free trade. Mr. Cleveland in his letter of acceptance declares:

I suppose that it is needless to explain that all these duties and assessments are added to the price of the articles upon which they are levied.

But the New York Times, which is free trade like its master, Mr. Cleveland, takes upon itself to say a different thing, and fires a shot that badly punctures the letter of acceptance:

Nobody teaches that the full amount of the duty is added to the price of the protected domestic product.

Just how the administration will patch up the hole made by this shot, is not clear to an outsider.

A dispatch from Ft. Atkinson on Saturday night to the Milwaukee Sentinel, says:

The Hon. L. B. Caswell made a masterly speech this evening to fully a thousand people at the city hall. He fairly tore in shreds two of the most powerful statements in Col. Vilas' Janesville speech relative to the surplus and the recovery of the railroad lands. The audience contained many old-line democrats, to whom the statement that the surplus for the present fiscal year would be only about $2,000,000 was an eye opener.

He was followed in a few remarks by W. D. Hoard who, could speak hardly above a whisper. Mr. Hoard's voice is in a deplorable condition and his family physician has warned him against further speaking. There is an unfortunate prospect that Mr. Hoard's dates next week will have to be filled by other speakers, if filled at all. This would disappoint none more than himself. He explained his condition to night modestly comparing himself to the boy who did not accomplish much with his flail because he hadn't quite got the hang of the barn.

Mr. Hoard is doing a great amount of work this campaign, and he is booked for twenty-one speeches more between now and the 19th of October. It is hoped that Mr. Hoard will not try to do too much. He is unused to this daily campaign speaking, and it threatens to go hard with him. It is a pleasure for the people to hear his speeches, for they are words of wisdom from a brave heart and a fertile mind, but Mr. Hoard owes it to himself to use much caution in his efforts to satisfy the demands of the people. His friends will take care of his interests. They will see that his election is secured by one of the very largest majorities ever given a republican candidate in Wisconsin.

It is worth while for the third party followers to consider the following facts from the Chicago Journal: "For a state which originally inaugurated the prohibition movement, which has had a stringent prohibitory law in operation for many years, and whose people are therefore supposed to know what prohibition means and to believe in it, Maine does not appear to be particularly attracted to the third party. In the state election of 1886 it gave the candidates of that party 3,873 votes out of a total of 138,567 votes cast in the state; at the state election of 1888 it gives its candidates only 2,971 votes out of a total of 143,663. So, likewise, in Vermont, where in 1886 the third party prohibition votes were 1,752, while in 1888 they are only 1,330. Like a crab, the third party is slowly progressing backward."

The issue in this campaign is pretty clearly stated by the Glasgow, (Scotland), Observer. Its statement is well worth reading because the mass of the democratic party with its present spirit and tendencies regarding free trade are fully in accord with those of England. "If America opens her ports to the manufactured goods of this country [Great Britain] it will give a great impetus to trade. It will soon flood the Yankee markets with cheap clothes, cheap hardware cheap boots and shoes, and other articles that we can manufacture more cheaply than they. We will be gainers by this. So, by all means, let us pray for the success of the free trade policy of Cleveland."

The democrats of Florida are afraid that so many white voters will run away on account of the yellow fever that the negroes will have a chance to vote and give the state to the republicans. In this way a great deal of good may come out of a calamity.

One of the truest things ever uttered by a democratic paper is that by the New York Sun when it said: "There are no signs of a drift to Mr. Cleveland. If there is any drift it is the other way."

BEN AND THE IRISH.

A Delegation from Chicago Calls on General Harrison.

WARMLY RECEIVED IN INDIANAPOLIS.

Ireland's Wrongs Discussed by the Republican Candidate in a Brief Speech at the New Denison Hotel—Text of His Remarks.

CHICAGO IRISH-AMERICANS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 17.—It was 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon when the train arrived bringing 300 members of the Irish-American Republican Club of Chicago. They were met at the depot by several hundred members of the Columbia Club and local Irish organizations and escorted with music and flying banners to the New Denison Hotel. This was the first distinctively Irish-American delegation that has visited General Harrison since his nomination.

As the club marched up Pennsylvania avenue with their uniformed escort they were enthusiastically cheered by the crowds, to which they never failed to give a hearty response. At their head waved a beautiful green silk banner inscribed: "Protection: It's Irish, You Know." This banner was presented to the Indianapolis Irish-American Protection Club by the young ladies of the High School Republican Club. Arriving at the hotel the visitors were immediately ushered into the dining-room.

Meantime a drizzling rain set in, necessitating a change of programme in the reception. The march out to General Harrison's residence was abandoned, and the reception took place early in the evening in the rotunda of the New Denison. Every available spot in the large room and the halls and corridors adjacent was crowded to its full capacity. As General Harrison appeared on the stairway, escorted by the local committee of the Irish club, he was greeted with a round of applause which concluded with the familiar response: "Life's all right." It was expected that Nathan P. Brady, the president of the club, would meet them here and deliver the address to General Harrison, but in his absence Mr. John F. Boggs acted as spokesman. After touching upon the political issues he concluded:

"GENERAL HARRISON: By your noble utterances in behalf of the down-trodden people of Ireland you have assisted much in building up the strong public opinion which exists to-day in America, and which no doubt will in the near future solve the question of the right of the Irish people to self government, and for this you are entitled to and have our most grateful thanks."

General Harrison in response said?

"MR. BOGGS AND MY FRIENDS OF THE IRISH-AMERICAN REPUBLICAN CLUB OF COOK COUNTY, ILL.: You were Irishmen, you are Americans [cheers], Irish-Americans [continued cheers], and though you have given the consecrated loyalty of your honest hearts to the starry flag and your adopted country you have not, and you ought not to forget to love and venerate the land of your birth. [Great applause.] If you could forget Ireland, if you could be unmoved by her minstrelsy, untouched by the appeals of her splendid oratory, unsympathetic with her heroes and martyrs, I should fear that the bonds of your new citizenship would have no power over hearts so cold and consciences so dead. [Cheers.] What if a sprig of green was found upon the bloody jacket of a Union soldier who lay dead on Missionary Ridge? The flag he died for was his flag and the green was only a memory and an inspiration. We, native or Irish born, join with the Republican convention in the hope that the cause of Irish home rule, progressing under the leadership of Gladstone and Parnell [cheers], upon peaceful and lawful lines may yet secure for Ireland that which us Americans we so much value—local home rule. [Continued cheering.] I am sure that you who have in your own persons or your worthy representatives given such convincing evidence of your devotion to the American constitution and flag and to American institution will not falter in this great civil contest which your spokesman has so fittingly described. Who, if not Irish-Americans, versed in the sad story of the commercial ruin of the Island they love, should be instructed in the beneficent influence of a protective tariff? [Loud and continued cheering]. Who, if not Irish-Americans, should be able to appreciate the friendly influence of the protective system upon their individual and upon their home lives? [Applause.] Which of you has not realized that not only the lot of man but the lot of woman has been made softer and easier under its influence. [Applause and cries "Hear, hear," and "That's what's the matter."] Contrast the American mother and wife, burdened only with cares of motherhood and of the household, with the condition of women in many of the countries of the Old World, where she is loaded also with the drudgery of toil in the field. [Applause.] I know that none more than Irishmen, who are so characterized by their deference for women, and whose women have so finely illustrated that which is pure in female character, will value this illustration of the good effects of our American system upon the home life. [Long continued applause.]

"There are nations across the sea who are hungry for the American markets. [Cries of "You bet they are," and "That's right," and "They won't get them."] They are waiting with eager expectation for the adoption of a free trade policy by the United States. [Cries of "That will never happen."] The English manufacturer is persuaded that an increased market for English goods in America is good for him, but I think it will be impossible to persuade the American producer or the American workman that it is good for them. [Loud applause and cries of "That is right."] I believe that social order, that National prosperity, are bound up in the preservation of our existing policy. [Loud cheers, and cries of "You are right."] I do not believe that a Republic can live and prosper whose wage-earners do not receive enough to make life comfortable, who do not have some upward avenue of hope open before them. When the wage-workers of the land lose hope, when the star goes out, social order is impossible, and after that Anarchy or the Czar. [Cheers and cries of "That's it."] I gratefully acknowledge the compliment of your call and exceedingly regret that the storm without made it impossible for me to receive you at my home. [Applause and cries of "Thanks," "Thanks."] I will now be glad to take each member of your club by the hand." [Loud and long-continued cheering.]

Each one of the visitors was then presented to General Harrison, who also shook hands with a large number of veterans congregated in the city en route home. At the conclusion of the reception General Harrison returned home and the visiting clubs marched to Tomlinson's Hall, where a largely attended mass-meeting was held. Ex-Governor Porter and several members of the visiting delegation spoke on the issues of the campaign.

A VEXED QUESTION.

The Question of Adjournment Worrying Our Statesmen at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The business before Congress is in a remarkable condition. All of the regular appropriation bills excepting the Sundry Civil and General Deficiency bills have been passed by both houses, and these two are at the very finishing point and will undoubtedly be out of the way within a few days, and within the present week if it is desired. It is almost impossible to forecast the proceedings in either house for even one day. In the absence of about half of the Senators and Representatives business is conducted by unanimous consent. A point of "no quorum," will defeat almost any measure, as it is with great difficulty that a quorum is procured for any purpose. An impression prevails on every hand that Congress is on the eve of adjournment, and very few men in either House will venture to predict what next will be done. It is believed by nearly every man in Congress that the Democratic members of the House at their caucus on Tuesday evening will agree upon a resolution providing for adjournment. The date fixed by Mr. Oates—Thursday, the 20th—will not be accepted, however. If the resolution is adopted it is believed that the day fixed upon will not be earlier than Wednesday or Thursday of next week, the 26th or 27th. It may be, if it is agreed in caucus that an adjournment resolution shall be adopted, that it will be defeated by a point of "no quorum," and that Congress will refuse to adjourn. The only men who can be found about the capitol who oppose adjournment are the Republican members of the Senate Committee on Finance and the Democratic members of the House Committee on Ways and Means, who constitute the majority of each committee. These men, it is believed by many, are not in spirit opposed to an adjournment, but simply refuse to take the responsibility of advocating it, and that while they will vote against a resolution to adjourn, they will, in reality, be glad to see it adopted. The only thing that appears to remain in the way of adjournment is the matter of responsibility. The committees mentioned are the two which usually take the initiative in adjourning the first session of each Congress, and they feel that to take the initiative under the present condition of the tariff and the present status of the campaign would be to say that they have had enough of tariff discussion and are willing to drop the subject.

A Narrow Escape.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Sept. 17.—A terrible disaster was narrowly averted in the Hoosac tunnel Saturday afternoon, when sixty-nine workmen employed in the tunnel were overcome by coal gas from a passing locomotive. Push cars were forced into the tunnel and the rescuers found the men lying on the track, some partly and some wholly overcome. All were placed on the cars and brought out into the open air. Eighteen men were found unconscious. Had the trains been allowed to pass into the tunnel, the slaughter would have been terrible. It is thought that two of the men will die.

A Labor Mass-Meeting.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Union Labor party opened the campaign in this city Saturday night with a mass-meeting in the Madison Square Garden. Some 3,000 people were present. Resolutions indorsing the principles of the party were read. Robert H. Cowdry, the candidate for President on the United Labor party's ticket, addressed the meeting. J. H. Wakefield, the nominee for Vice-President of the United Labor party, Dr. McGlynn and others addressed the meeting.

A Victim of Mob Law.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 17.—A mob composed of 100 negroes, entered the jail at Whiteville, Columbus County, Wednesday night, having forced the jailer at the point of a revolver to give up the keys, and took out Sherman Farrier (colored) and hanged him. He was accused of outraging Mrs. Sasser, an aged white woman, on the 26th of August. On his breast was a card with the words: "We will protect our women. Beware."

A WAITING GAME.

Canada Will Take No Action on the Question of Retaliation.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD INTERVIEWED.

He Says the Dominion Government Will Await Developments in the United States Before Undertaking to Do Any Thing.

CANADA IN NO HURRY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—An Ottawa special to the Sun says that Sir John Macdonald, in an interview, being asked what would be the policy of Canada, replied: "The policy of the Canadian Government will be to await developments in the United States. By this I mean that the only question from which trouble can arise relates to the fishing. The fishing season has just closed, and it will not open again until May. In other words, it will be fully eight months before the United States will have any chance to bring up that question again. Until that time we will do absolutely nothing unless President Cleveland makes some unexpected move, which is not probable, even if the Senate should grant him the asked-for power. Nothing can come of all the present discussion, therefore, for eight months, and before the expiration of that time things may have assumed a quieter aspect.

"The feeling toward the United States," continued Sir John, "is not unfriendly, but it is to be remembered that we have given much to the States, one thing after another under the several treaties. We do not feel that this can go on forever. I think that the treaty of last year, generally known as the Chamberlain treaty, was in the main fair and decisive. I have no hesitation in saying that, if politics had not interfered, the United States must have come to the conclusion by this time that it had made a first rate bargain by that treaty. In that measure, however, the utmost limit of concession was reached. We can go no further, and now the treaty has been set aside the whole matter falls back on the treaty of 1818 as far as the fisheries part of the dispute is concerned.

"As the matter stands now the President must carry out his threats or lose his hold upon the voters. One good effect has been subserved by the recent action of Mr. Cleveland, and that is the marked growth of unity of sentiment among Canadians. There is a feeling now in Canada that we have been thrown upon our own resources, and that we must be more self-reliant."

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

A Disaster in a Cleveland (O.) Mill by Which One Workman Is Killed and Four Seriously Injured and the Building Burned—A Possibility That There May Be Others in the Ruins.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 17.—A terrific explosion occurred at the mills of the National Milling Company, on Merwin street. The mill took fire and was destroyed, entailing a loss of $150,000, on which there was an insurance of $75,000. There were eighteen men in the mill at the time of the explosion. One, Peter Geirman, perished in the flames. Four others, Joe Vanniel, William Stewart, Sterling Barber and John Blake, were seriously burned and injured. Six men escaped without injury. Seven others are unaccounted for, and it is thought at least three of them are dead in the ruins. The following are the names of the killed and injured workmen who were taken out of the mill:

Peter Geiermann, employed in warehouse, unmarried, killed; Emil Halsgen, 23 years old, unmarried, killed; William Strub, packer, 20 years old, unmarried, right side of face and hands seriously burned, will recover; Sterling Barber, roller, 21 years old, unmarried, face and body burned and thigh badly cut; Joseph Lunniel, 22 years old, face and hands burned; Frank Luby, assistant miller, cut in skull, face and hands burned.

THE CROPS.

The Weather During the Past Week Has Been Rather Favorable, Although Frosts Did Some Damage.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The weather-crop bulletin for the week ending Saturday, September 15, says: Reports from the corn belt including Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska indicate that the weather during the week has been especially favorable and that the corn crop, which is very large, is generally secure and past injury from frost. The frosts which occurred during the week along the northern border of Iowa, and in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, did some damage to growing crops. Over the western portion of the cotton region, including Alabama and Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, the favorable weather during the week has greatly improved all growing crops, and cotton picking is in progress in all these States. In North and South Carolina all growing crops have been seriously injured by heavy rains and dangerous floods.

Still Looking for Tascott.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Henrietta Snell, widow of the late Amos J. Snell, who was murdered in his residence on Washington boulevard in February last, called on Superintendent-of-Police Hubbard and offered a reward of $20,000 for the capture of William B. Tascott, the supposed murderer of her husband. The reward will hold good for sixty days. The original reward of $10,000 expired last May and was not renewed.

Cattle Traveling in Style.

OGDEN, U. T., Sept. 17.—Two special trains of fat cattle belonging to Messrs. Crocker & Taylor have reached here from Nevada via the Central Pacific road. These cattle are being conveyed on special cattle palace-cars and will run through to Chicago on passenger time, being fed and watered while in transit. If the experiment proves successful large shipments will probably be made in this way.

He Didn't Say It.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The President in reply to a charge made in the North American Review that he had declared he believed in free trade the same as he believed in the Protestant religion, says it is a pure, unadulterated fabrication.

A Crazy Tailor's Deed.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 17.—John Spinick, a tailor, shot his wife three times Sunday afternoon and then shot himself in the mouth. Spinick is dead, but his wife is still alive. Insanity over business troubles was the cause.

Must Pay a Million.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 17.—W. N. Riddle, John P. Beal and M. K. McMullin, capitalists of this city, have been ordered by the court to pay back to the Pennsylvania Bank the sum of $1,000,000, which they squandered.

Barrels of Dollars Received.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Up to date 5,000,000 silver dollars, weighing 240 tons, have been received from the Philadelphia mint and placed in the new vault in the Treasury Department.

Their Business Boom.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Frank Sherer & Co's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Pears' is the purest and best soap ever made.

A SAD SUNDAY.

Seventy-Four New Cases of Fever and Nine Deaths at Jacksonville—An Autopsy Shows That Prof. Proctor Really Died of the Plague.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 17.—The official bulletin of the Board of Health for the twenty-four hours ending at 6 p. m. yesterday reports: New cases, 74; deaths, 9; total cases to date, 985; total deaths, 126. A corps of fourteen nurses, sent by Harry Miner, has arrived from New York by steamer to Fernandina. Twenty-three nurses arrived from New Orleans. It was a sad Sunday. The weather is still unsettled. Among those prostrated are Colonel Waitfold Walker, internal revenue collector for Florida, and Mrs. Walker. He is doing well.

The Board of Health is at present badly crippled, Dr. Neal Mitchell having to carry the whole business of the board upon his own shoulders. The board consisted of Drs. Neal Mitchell, R. P. Daniel, Henry Bacon, H. L. Eagle and H. R. Kennedy. Dr. Eagle is dead, Dr. Daniel is very ill, and Dr. Kennedy has a very sick wife at his home, several miles out of the city. To add to the board's difficulties it has lost its able young secretary, James McDonald. The moment Dr. Mitchell appears on the street he is questioned about every conceivable thing, almost as if he was an encyclopedia. Every body is working at high pressure, and the result is that the doctors and leaders are thoroughly tired out, and if taken ill their systems will be too greatly weakened for them to rally.

Superintendent F. B. Dillon, of the Western Union, who has been in constant attendance for the last four days trying to get business dispatches and "specials" through on poorly working wires, was taken down yesterday. All the men are doing nobly, but they are overworked. W. J. Wallace, the day chief, lost his child on Friday and his wife is dangerously ill. He himself is worn out with watching.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17.—William Williams, Grand Master of the Masonic order in Missouri, has issued a circular letter calling on the Masons of Missouri for contributions for the Florida yellow-fever relief fund.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—An autopsy was held at North Brother Island on the body of the late Richard Proctor. The actual work of the autopsy was performed by Drs. Pradan and Biggs. The conclusions of the physicians are such as to confirm the diagnosis of the attending physicians. Mr. Proctor died of yellow fever.

BIG MEDICINE MEN.

Many Distinguished Physicians to Attend the Medical Congress at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The hotels are full of distinguished medical men, and a large number will arrive to-morrow to attend the sessions of the Medical congress. Among the names entered as guests of the Cosmos and other clubs are Sir Spencer Wells, Sir William MacCornac, Mr. Reginald Harrison, F. R. C. S., Mr. Thomas Bryant, F. R. C. S., Dr. William Ord, Dr. W. O. Priestly, Dr. V. A. Horsley, Dr. David Ferrier and Dr. W. M. Grailey Hewitt, all of London; Prof. F. Von Esmarch and Dr. Erwin Esmarch, of Keil; Dr. J. Halliday Crown, of Edinburgh; Drs. D. Hayes Agnew, William Pepper and S. W. Gross, of Philadelphia; Drs. G. F. Schrady, Fordyce Barker, W. H. Draper and T. A. Emmett, of New York; J. C. Warren and H. B. Bowditch, of Boston, and Pendleton Dandridge, of Cincinnati.

A Heavy Rain.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17. — Thunderstorms are rare in this city and vicinity, and a heavy storm Saturday evening, accompanied by sharp lightning, caused considerable astonishment. Rain fell in torrents, the total fall being nearly one inch in twenty-four hours. Throughout the northern and central parts of the State the rainfall was also heavy and much damage is reported to grain lying in stacks in the field, as well as to grapes and dry feed. Following after ten days of great heat, the rain has injured grapes severely, although in Fresno, the center of raisin making, the showers were light.

Killed His Neighbors and Himself.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17.—While in a drunken rage Andrew Ruhl, a farmer living near Manchester, Mo., visited the house of Fred Fink, a neighbor, with whom he was on bad terms, armed with a shot-gun. On the way he met and shot Fink, and proceeding to the house he drove out Miss Minnie Fink, whom he pursued and shot through the heart. He then returned home and killed himself.

Killed in a Collision.

MANSFIELD, O., Sept. 17.—In a collision between two freight trains on the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio railroad, about eight miles west of Akron George Armstrong, engineer, married, aged 40, residing at Galion, was killed and a fireman and brakeman seriously injured. The accident is said to have been the fault of a telegraph operator failing to deliver orders.

A Furious Gale.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—A violent windstorm Sunday afternoon, accompanied by sheets of rain, caused considerable damage in the southwestern section of the city. Several houses were blown down and a number of roofs lifted. The cupola of the Botanical Gardens was destroyed, the greenhouse badly shattered and many valuable tropical plants were destroyed.

Tree's Probable Successor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Herald's Washington special says: It is semi-officially announced that General John C. Parkhurst, of Michigan, will within a few days be nominated as Minister to Brussels to succeed Mr. Lambert Tree, who has been transferred to St. Petersburg. The appointment will be made at the instance of Postmaster-General Dickinson.

Iron-Workers Give Up.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 17.—The strike at Brown's iron-mills has been settled. The men stopped work two weeks ago because the firm insisted upon a heater paying $40 for iron which he had spoiled. They lost $10,000 in wages during their idleness, and have come to the conclusion that they were in the wrong.

Pauper Labor for Canada.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The French authorities, like those of other countries, are anxious to deport their pauper and otherwise undesirable population, and have sent agents to Canada to inquire into the opportunities there of using the country as a dumping ground for their human refuse.

Damage to the Cotton Crop.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 17.—Commissioner of Agriculture John Robinson, of this State, says that from reports made by correspondents he is able to estimate damage to the cotton crop by rains and floods since September 1 to be at least 15 per cent. In some sections it is put at 25 per cent.

A Modern Fagin.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—I. Rosenthal, keeper of a "fence" on South Canal street, has been arrested by the police. He made a business of teaching children to steal and planned the work for them.

Men and Women's Bones,

Joints and muscles may escape the agonizing tortures of rheumatism if they will but "take time by the forlock," and annihilate the symptoms of oncoming trouble with the benignant and highly sanctioned blood depurent and alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Poisons mostly constitute the ordinary means of battling with this atrocious complaint. Avoid the risk of using these by resorting to the safe as well as effectual anti-phlogistic and preventitive. After exposure to damp, through drafts and other causes which encourage a rheumatic tendency, a wineglass of the Bitters prevents ill effects. No surer preventive of malarial ailments like fever and ague, bilious remittant, dumb ague and ague cake exists, and it is, besides, a most genial recuperator of strength exhausted by excessive mental or physical effort. Miners, mariners, operatives and others whose avocations involve laborious work in rough weather out of doors, or close application indoors, find it invaluable.

PERCY'S PLUCK.

It Saved His Life in the Niagara River.

HE ATTEMPTS TO SHOOT THE RAPIDS.

His Boat Dashed to Pieces in the Whirlpool, and He Is Thrown Into the Seething Waters—Rescued After a Swim of Three Miles.

AN AWFUL EXPERIENCE.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 17.—After many trials C. A. Percy made his second trip through the whirlpool rapids Sunday afternoon. At 4:15 every thing was in readiness and Percy, dressed in a rowing suit, stepped in and rowed toward the center of the river. He fastened the oars to the boat, stood up and waved a good-bye to the crowds of on-lookers. He stepped into the aft air chamber and passed under the bridge. At almost the first toss the boat went out of sight and rose bottom up. It seemed an age before it righted itself, but did so just as the crowd became very anxious. The trip was very similar to the one Percy made on August 23, 1887. It arrived at the whirlpool at 4:29 o'clock where he left his air chamber and rowed across to the Canadian shore. He remained in the whirlpool until 5:20 o'clock when he was towed across the lower reef and started on his trip to Lewiston. The rapids below the whirlpool are equally dangerous, if not more so, than those above. Just as he was passing Foster Flats, about a mile below the pool, a huge breaker dashed in the door of his air-chamber, filling it with water. He was at once compelled to take the center of the boat, but before he could properly secure himself he was thrown out in the rapids. He managed to catch the boat to which he clung for half a mile when he was dashed away just where the rapids were most fierce. Having on a life preserver to buoy him up, he started for Lewiston, three miles below. Two miles was through the rapids, and for nearly an hour he battled with the waves. When he reached stiller water several boats were on the look out for him. He was picked up just under the old Lewiston bridge by a fisherman named Gillett and brought ashore and carried into the Waggoner House, nearly exhausted. Had it not been for his life-preserver and his pluck he would have been drowned. The boat has not yet been picked up. Percy has unintentionally performed a feat never before attempted—that of swimming the Devil's Hole rapids. Nellie Dilworth, of Pittsburgh, who was to have accompanied Percy, backed out and thus saved her life.

SIGNING THE TREATY.

Nearly Four Hundred Indians Have Approved the Convention.

CARLISLE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Captain Pratt, chairman of the Sioux Commission, has returned to Dakota. In a personal interview he said that Secretary Vilas has ordered a general council, to take place at Lower Brule agency on the 22d, at which all the Indian agents on the Sioux reservation and the leading Indians of the several agencies are to be present. The Commissioners have received 384 signatures at Standing Rock, Crow Creek and Lower Brule. This is a greater number of signers than any treaty heretofore made with the Sioux received, and among those who signed are many who are able to read the bill and sign intelligently, which was not the case with any treaty heretofore entered into by the Sioux.

THE CHINESE PROTEST.

Mongolian Residents of Honolulu Disposed to Create Trouble Over Recent Legislation Against Them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17. — News was brought here from Honolulu by the United States dispatch boat that a Chinese mass meeting was recently held there to protest against the action of the Hawaiian Legislature in passing laws tending to prevent Chinamen from transacting business on the islands. A fund was raised to advance the interests of the Chinese, and threats were made that the Hawaiian Government would be compelled to accede to their demands. There is a majority of Chinese males on the islands over males of all other nations, including the natives.

He Kept His Word.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Oers Barothy, who committed suicide in this city last week, is reported to have sent a letter to a brother living near Omaha, in which he relates his reason for taking his life. Three years ago he challenged a Hungarian army officer to a duel. The latter made a peculiar choice of means. The principals to the affair drew lots, and to Barothy fell the unlucky one. By the conditions the one who drew this was to shoot himself in three years.

Floods in the Savannah River.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 17.—The flood in the Savannah river has covered the rice plantations near Savannah, and the rice crop is nearly if not quite a total loss. Reports from the country districts are that the lowlands are all under water and that the roads and bridges are washed away, so that travel is almost impossible. While there is great damage to property no deaths have yet been reported.

Costly Model of the White House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—There has been placed on exhibition in a local jewelry store a complete model of the Executive Mansion, made up in solid silver. The piece is a perfect representation of the mansion. It weighs 612 pennyweights, and comprises 1,500 pieces, and is valued at $350. It is to be placed at the fair of St. Peter's Church, and voted to the most popular Presidential candidate.

Crops Saved by Rain.

CADILLAC, Mich., Sept. 17.—It commenced raining Saturday night and continued all Sunday, putting out fires in the woods and greatly benefiting the farmers, who had about given up the potato crop as lost from the long dry spell. Reports from Walton, Traverse City, Mancelona, Howard City and Western Michigan are the same.

Cuban Strikers Seeking Aid.

KEY WEST, Fla., Sept. 17.—A committee representing the striking cigar-makers in Havana has arrived here, and has telegraphed to all of the large cities North asking aid for the strikers. A mass-meeting in their behalf will be held here. The strikers and their families number 20,000 persons.

The New Comet.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—Astronomers calculate that the new comet discovered by Prof. Barnard September 2 is 150,000,000 miles from the earth and 170,000,000 miles from the sun. It will probably reach the perihelion about December 10.

A Blaze at Pittsburgh.

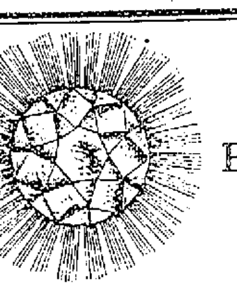

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 17.—A fire damaged A. G. Duncan & Co.'s brush factory and Bovard, Rose & Co.'s carpet store on Fifth avenue to the extent of $60,000, principally by water.

An Explanation

What is this nervous trouble with which so many seem now to be afflicted. If you will remember a few years ago the word malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and are all caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channels is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

A SENSATION.

The people are getting crazy over the Mexio Nervo Food. All the nervous, weakly women are talking about it because it takes that terrible tired feeling away so quick and keeps it off on 3 cents worth of the syrup per day. It is an artificially digested nerve food only. The men are as bad, for it breaks up the effects of dissipation and overwork in a few hours and no stimulation or reaction. It is a newly discovered process of preparing the food used by the nerves, artificially, for the purpose of giving people their full complement of nerve power, when the stomach is not able to digest it for that purpose. Overworked people take enormous quantities of it. It contains neither medicine nor alcohol.

ZIEGLER'S!

SMITH'S BLOCK.

THE ASTROLOGERS and Wise Men of olden times demonstrated, and later human experience has verified their demonstrations, that the good or ill fortune of every person is confined to one of 12 different degrees, and is strictly governed by the Star that ruled the Fates during the month in which the person was born, as explained below. From this mysterious realm of power has been calculated this unerring Fortune Teller. Try its predictions.

EXPLANATION.—The inner Circle will predict your Fortune in Business Affairs. The next Circle, in Affairs of Love. The next Circle, your General Future. The outer Circle, in Domestic Affairs.

If your birthday occurs between Jan. 1st and 25th, (inclusive), your Star is Venus; Jan. 26 and Feb. 23, Jupiter; Feb. 24 and March 19, Sirius; March 20 and April 15, Saturn; April 16 and May 21, Mars; May 22 and June 18, Mercury; June 19 and July 27, Capella; July 28 and August 21, Cygni; August 22 and Sept. 20, Uranus; Sept. 21 and Oct. 19, Neptune; Oct. 20 and Nov. 17, Mira; Nov. 17 to Dec. 31, Rigel. To predict your fortune in any business affairs, find the Star under which you were born, then select any letter under that Star and in the Business Circle, (the inner one), and write down the letter; then proceed to select every fifth letter in that Circle, (going in the direction of the arrows) and write the letters in a line. By reading from the proper point in the line, your fortune will be clearly described.

As an example, the following is a prediction and reads "Rich in Old Age."

Have You Any Idea What It Costs TO MAKE A CHICAGO DAILY NEWS?

You haven't? Well, let us give you just a glimpse into the business, perhaps it will interest you.

To begin with, the work of the paper is divided into Seventeen Different Departments, each under its own responsible Superintendent. Let us take them in order as they stand on the weekly pay-roll:—

1. The Editorial Department.—This includes managing editors, city editors, telegraph editors, exchange editors, editorial writers, special writers, and about thirty reporters. THE DAILY NEWS staff is admittedly without a superior in the West, and numbers 56
2. The Telegraph Room.—To save time special wires are run into THE DAILY NEWS building, and the paper's own operators take the messages and hand them immediately to the telegraph editor. The number of operators is 3
3. The Compositor's Room.—When "copy" has passed the hands of the proper revising editor it goes to the type-setter. There are a good many of him in THE DAILY NEWS office—on an average . . 73
4. The Linotype Room.—But the compositor doesn't do all the type-setting. The "Linotype" machine "sets type" by casting a-line-of-type, on somewhat the same principle as the type-founder casts a single type. Fourteen of these machines are in use in THE DAILY NEWS office, and the number of persons required in this department is 29
5. The Artists' and Engravers' Department.—But the metropolitan daily now gives its readers not only reading matter, but also illustrations. By the aid of good artists, zinc etchers and photography by electric light THE DAILY NEWS is now printing the best newspaper illustrations in America. This takes the best service of skilled workers to the number of 7
6. The Stereotype Foundry.—The matter—type and pictures—being now "locked up" in the "forms" the work is next transferred to the foundry. A metropolitan daily no longer prints from its type. In order to print a large edition quickly it is necessary to multiply the printing surfaces, and this is accomplished by casting duplicate stereotyped plates, from which, after they have been fastened to the presses, the printing is done. And the pay roll runs from $5,500 to $6,000 per week, aggregating during the year $300,000.

Then there is even a larger annual expenditure for white paper, and telegraph and cable tolls sometimes run nearly a thousand dollars a week. Take it all together the expenditures of THE DAILY NEWS for the year 1888 will vary very little from $900,000.

The foregoing takes no account of the special correspondents at hundreds of places throughout the country; of European correspondents; of fifteen hundred news agents throughout the Northwest who distribute THE DAILY NEWS to its out of town readers; of two hundred city carriers; of forty-two wholesale city dealers with their horses and wagons; of one hundred and fifty branch advertisement offices throughout the city, all connected with the main office by telephone, nor of the about three thousand newsboys who make a living, in whole or in part, selling THE DAILY NEWS in Chicago. This is what it costs the publisher to make a CHICAGO DAILY NEWS. It costs the reader to buy it one cent a day. Measured by the cost of its production, THE DAILY NEWS is worth its price, isn't it? The Chicago Daily News is sold by all newsdealers, or will be mailed, postage paid, for $3.00 per year, or 25 cents per month. WAY OUT IN ALASKA.

How a Tenderfoot Sought Gold in Our Arctic Territory.

Roseate Romance of Boundless Wealth and Magnificent Scenery and the Stern Reality of Bacon and Beans—An Hospitable Indian.

A writer in the Juneau City Mining Record gives a graphic description of experiences while in the recent prospecting tour in Alaska: On the morning of July 9, he says, we left Douglas City on the favorite and fast-sailing canoe Hiak, Captain Jim (both well and favorably known in Alaskan waters) for a prospecting trip in Lynn Canal. As the day was fine and the wind fair the sail through Gastineaux, Stephens' passage and Lynn Canal was delightful, as each one is dotted with little islands, rising from the water's edge to a height of a thousand feet or more, whilst the mountains on the mainland are thousands of feet high, with rugged peaks not unlike the teeth of an old-fashioned cross-cut saw, the spaces between the peaks being filled with glaciers and the peaks themselves are covered with perpetual snow. As I am a cheo-chaco in the country (that's what my chums call me), every thing appeared wild and picturesque, and as I burst out in exclamations of admiration every once in a while at the scenery, they would say: "Oh, shucks! that ain't nothing; you had ought to see the scenery on the Yukon."

The first night we camped on a creek about thirty miles from Juneau, where our native told us there was some quartz. We stayed and examined it, but did not think enough of it to locate it. The next day we arrived at our native's illahee (as he called it), situated at Lynn Canal, and distant about forty miles from Juneau. It is a beautiful bay, filled with many islands and teeming with fish, from the mighty whale to the tiny herring, while the woods and mountains are full of game—the small and harmless ground-hog and the large and fierce brown bear.

The Indian who accompanied us is a fine specimen of his race; he stands over six feet in his bare feet, and weighs over two hundred pounds. He is a Mormon in proclivities, for he has a number of wives, who appear well satisfied with him as their lord and master, and I could see no sign of the green-eyed monster. He is a bear hunter by occupation, and an enthusiast in that line, and many were the stories and hair-breadth escapes he related. I can well believe he is a good hunter, as his larder is well stocked with fish, flesh and fowl; his wives were brown, fat and greasy; his dogs, of which he had seven, were all in splendid condition, and that is more than can be said of most Indian dogs. He told us the peculiarities of each, and showed us the many wounds they had received in their encounters with bruin. He also showed us the hole where he buried the bears' heads, and there must have been twenty skulls in it. I inquired of him why he did so, and he told me: "Bear all same Indian; by and by he go to the happy rooting ground."

As a host he is a prince, and right royally he treated us to all kinds of game put up in Indian style. We had smoked porcupine put up in seal oil, and one of our crowd who pretends to be an epicure said it was delicious; there were seal's flippers cooked in grease, which were not dissimilar to pig's feet; baked ground hog stuffed with mussels, which gave the hog a fishy taste and improved the flavor of the mussels. His bear's head cheese was actually immense, and there were many more dishes too numerous to mention. He showed many kinds of roots and herbs good for food and medicine. He also showed his canned halibut, hooks and all of his dancing outfit. His headgear and mask cost him fifty dollars; it was wild and uncouth, and was carved out of yellow cedar. It had a large nose like a parrot's beak, eyes made of mother-of-pearl, a mouth which contained the teeth of the only siwash doctor on Noah's ark, ears made from the hide of the ichthyosaurus, hair made from the sea lion's whiskers. His hunting knife had some unique carving on the handle that represented some Indian myth the bears were afraid of. As a prospector, like many more following that vocation, I do not consider him a success, as we examined many places that he showed us, but could see nothing except white and barren quartz.

He had other places he wanted to show us, and we would have gone with him, but one of the party had an acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism. The native told us the extent of his territory, and said he expected white men prospecting on his domain to pay him $2.50 per day for his knowledge and services. He said the land and water belonged to his ancestors from time immemorial, and he inquired if white men owning a similar amount of land would allow every body on it. His argument brought forcibly to our mind the "bloated bondholders" of America and the land question that is now agitating the British Empire, where Lords, Dukes and Earls are holding hundreds of miles square that their ancestors acquired by might, while he claims his by right. The only difference I see between them and this Indian is that he will be glad to see you hunt or fish on his supposed country, while if you caught a trout in their waters or shot a pheasant in their woods you would get about five years.

The next day we traveled against a head wind and a terrible rain, and after getting drenched to the skin we camped. It would be very pleasant prospecting in Alaska were it not for the rain, head wind and tides, thick brush and mosquitoes, and a few other little inconveniences. Then, again, if I was looking through a tourist's eyes from the deck of an ocean steamer, how romantic the majestic mountains and rivers, hundreds of miles of pine-clad shores, and every now and then a vast glacier! Then in smooth, narrow channels can be seen the mammoth whale, forging his way along nearly as fast as the steamer, and every few feet can be seen the shining silvery sides of a beautiful salmon, disporting, or trying to escape from some finny monster who is trying to catch him for a meal. I saw a seal gobble one in less than two seconds. To me the animals on such a trip remind one of a great menagerie, without having to pay at the door, while the waters are a grand aquarium; and take it altogether, were it not for the stern reality of beans and bacon, a prospecting tour in Alaska is like visiting an ever-changing panorama.

The True Man Hidden.

Love sees the virtues that are of the soul, hatred only the diseases of the skin. "All men have their faults, and stealing was Bill's," said a weeping widow over the corpse of a desperado, shot in attempted burglary. And grotesque, ludicrous as the expression may seem, she was right. She knew that not in the robber, the lawbreaker, the outcast, did the real man shine forth, but in those rarer moods of kindliness and generosity which he was the true friend and husband. Perhaps when two enemies, who have refused to see any good in each other on this earth, meet hereafter in another world, free from the muddy vesture of decay which clogs their vision here, the first thought of each will be: "Is this the beautiful soul that I maligned and hated?"

THE GERMANS IN SAMOA.

Seven of Herr Branders' Soldiers Killed in an Encounter with Natives.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—A dispatch from Auckland says: "Advices from Samoa say that the natives have rebelled on account of an attempt made by Herr Branders, a German official, to induce them to confer the name of Malietoa upon Tamasese; and also because the taxation imposed upon them was excessive. Herr Branders, at the head of a force of Samoans who favor the pretensions of Tamasese, has had an encounter in the bush with the rebels and seven of his force were killed, the rebels losing but three men. Many of the combatants were wounded. Herr Branders' force numbers 1,400 men, while that of the rebels is 3,000. The deposition of Tamasese is inevitable unless the Germans lend him active support."

The Verdict Unanimous

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousand of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Frank Sherer & Co's.

Hay Fever.

I have been afflicted with hay fever from early in August until frost. My eyes would run a stream of water and I sneezed continually. I was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like a charm and I can say I am entirely cured.—Mrs. Emeline Johnson, Chester, Conn.

I have been for several years a sufferer from hay fever and severe head colds. I have found nothing that can compare with Ely's Cream Balm. I would not be without it for any consideration. It is simply wonderful in its effect upon the nasal organs.—S. A. Burtt, Wilmington, N. C.

Several lumber camps have been destroyed and the damage to timber, both standing and manufactured, will be great. The present loss is estimated at $100,000.

DRUNKENNESS

Or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless, and will effect a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For sale by FRANK SHERER, Druggist, 13 W. Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.

OPPOSITE VIEWS.

They looked at each other across the street,
The flats they occupied being just
Of a height to let their glances meet—
Through rain and sunshine and flying dust.

He was a tall young man and dark;
She was a slim young maid and fair.
His eyes flashed many a killing spark,
While hers sent gently a steady stare.

He thought: "She isn't my style: but then,
I'll flirt a little, just for a whim;"
While she said: "Well the conceit of men!
Does he ever suppose I'd think of him?

—Miss Sadie E. Buck is spending a little time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Buck, of the fourth ward. Miss Buck has resided at Moberly, Mo., for the past five years, where she holds a position as head bookkeeper in the car department of the Missouri Pacific Railway.

—Mrs. S. B. Lewis having resigned her position as organist of the Baptist church, has been engaged as organist of the Congregational church. Mrs. M. D. Jones, who has been organist at the Congregational church, will succeed Mrs. Lewis at the Baptist church.

—The indications are that a very light vote will be polled on the question of "license fees" on to morrow. The advocates of high license—$500—appear quiet, doing nothing, while the advocates of low license—$200—have held regular meetings, and are ready to make a fight at the polls if necessary.

—Mr. Carroll E. Gray, Jr., having completed the pipe laying contract at West Superior, has gone to Washington, Indiana, where he has a contract to lay water pipe. The water pipe at West Superior has nine feet cover; Janesville six feet, and Washington, Indiana, four feet. Some difference in climate and the frost line.

—Captain M. A. Newman and Privates James Gibson and Thomas Richardson, started for Madison this morning to represent Company A in the rifle practice at Camp Douglas. They will be in camp until Saturday. Therefore there will be no Thursday night drill, but next Monday night is set apart for company muster.

—Mr. George Kenna's Siberian articles are to continue through the coming year of the Century. Among other matters of great interest will be the culmination of Mr. Kenna's revelations in a minute and a tragic account of the mines of Kara, to which more than a single article will be devoted. Mr. Kenna has written for St. Nicholas an account of the "Russian Overland Telegraph" enterprise, his connection with which first took him to Siberia.

—The Century for the coming year is to contain Charles De Kay's series of illustrated papers on Ireland, for some time in preparation and already announced. They will deal with the ethnology, customs, literature, etc., of the country. A series of Irish-American stories by Geo. H. Jessup is also to appear during 1889. Each story is complete in itself, but the series has a connected interest. E. W. Kemble will furnish illustrations.

—The Northwestern railroad company has adopted the "Parson's Train Indicator" for use on its caboose cars on freight trains. By the use of this indicator, employes along the line, can tell whether a train passing is a regular or special. It is fixed on the cupola on the top of the caboose. For regular trains the number of the train is shown by white figures and if it be a special train the letters "spl." The signals are illuminated at night and they may be seen quite a distance off. Railroad men, especially operators, think that it is the best and most convenient system used so far.

A JURY SELECTED.

The Steinhauser Murder Case Before Judge Bennett.

A jury in the Steinhauser case has been secured after nearly 200 jurymen have been examined by the attorneys. Mrs. Steinhauser and Henry Rohrmeister, her alleged accomplice, in the murder of Mr. Steinhauser have pleaded not guilty to the charge. The case was opened for the state by the district attorney, who said he expected to show that the murder was the result of a conspiracy between the defendants. The first witness called was a civil engineer who testified to the plan of the house and other matters relating to the scene of the alleged killing. The case is being tried before Judge Bennett in the Jefferson county court.

ONE GAME APIECE.

The Rockford-Janesville Ball Games Divided.

After beating the Rockford Reds Saturday by a score of eight to three, the Mutuals lost the second game by a score of eight to seven.

In the first game the Rockfords showed weakness both in batting and fielding. Their batting work was good but not strong enough to save the team from defeat.

In the second game the visitors developed new strength. They clung close to the Mutuals from the start, and at the end of the ninth inning the score stood seven and seven. In the tenth inning one run was made by the Rockfords, while the Mutuals were retired in one-two-three order, and the game was ended.

WHAT SHALL THE LICENSE BE?

The special election to be held to-morrow, will determine the amount of licence which shall be paid for the next three years. The supreme indifference which prevails among temperance people throughout the city, indicates that there will be no change in the amount of license. The third party element are uncompromisingly opposed to the license system. Free whiskey or no whiskey is their motto.

But the third party element is but a small minority of the temperance people in the city, who practice prohibition more than they preach it. The argument is used that at the next session of the state legislature an effort will be made to pass a county local option law, and in that event it is urged that the question of license would not be so important.

Careful observation prompts the Gazette to suggest that a prohibitory law in Janesville would be worse than a dead letter. The city of Rockford has gone from a $1000 license to prohibition this year, and the fact is being demonstrated every day that the law is far in advance of any supporting public sentiment. What is true of Rockford, would be doubly true of Janesville, where public sentiment is indifferent that half the voters will not take trouble to express a preference, which was the case three years ago, and which is likely to be the case to-morrow. The state and not the city is entitled to the credit of even a $200 license, and if the amount is ever increased it will be done by state legislation and not by any prevailing local sentiment.

This acknowledgment may contain more truth than consolation, the vote to-morrow will determine. If the Gazette has over estimated the indifferent majority it will be glad to stand corrected when the vote is declared. The city should enjoy the benefit of high license.

GERMAN IN THE SCHOOLS.

An Important Addition Made to the Course of Study in the High School.

The New Second Ward Building Not to be Occupied Until October 1st.

German was added to the high school course of study by the school board Saturday night. All of the board voted aye with the exception of Commissioner Wilson. Mr. Wilson insisted that "there were too many dead languages in the schools already." He claimed that if half the time which would be spent on German were put upon English the result would be considerably better.

The change was made in adopting a course of studies for the new year. Superintendent Keyes reported that by the addition of German Janesville's high school could be placed on the higher accredited list at the state university. At present Janesville's graduates were prepared only for the general science course; while with German, they would be prepared for the modern classical as well.

In order to introduce German into the high school, Superintendent Keyes reported, it would be advisable to have three separate courses. One, the English, could be the same as last year. Last year's classical course, however, would be changed by the addition of German; and a general science course would be added, resembling the English, but with German added. The superintendent's recommendation was adopted with little debate. It was explained that no new teachers would be necessary on account of the change, as the German classes would be in charge of Superintendent Keyes and Mr. F. O. Watson, the newly appointed first assistant.

Besides adopting the new course of study, the board decided to delay opening the second ward school until October 1st; ordered the placing of water-service in all the city school buildings and elected Miss Sophie Grove to fill the vacancy made by Miss Martha Willey's resignation.

A TRAIN-LOAD OF VETERANS.

Governor Rusk and Staff Pass Through Janesville.

A train-load of old soldiers it was that passed through Janesville Saturday evening. On one of the car platforms was Governor Jeremiah Rusk bowing his acknowledgements to the greetings of the crowd and shaking hands with the friends that had gathered on the platform.

The governor was on his way home from Columbus. He spent most of Saturday at Beloit, where he was given an enthusiastic reception. Accompanying him were his Grand Army staff. All of them, excepting Attorney General Eastabrook, bear marks of the service they have rendered; and Col. Eastabrook himself has a record of valiant work in the 43d Wisconsin.

Next to Col. Eastabrook on the staff is Capt. W. W. Jones who lost an arm at Antietam, while with the 2d Wisconsin, Major F. L. Phillips, another from the same regiment left one arm at Spottsylvania

The other members of the staff, with the number of their regiments were as follows:

Major F. H. Conse, 83d, Pennsylvania Infantry, lost leg at Fredericksburg.

Capt. H. W. Lovejoy, 32d Wisconsin Infantry, shot through head at Atlanta.

W. J. Jones, 16th Wisconsin Infantry, lost arm at Corinth.

Mark Smith, 7th Wisconsin Infantry, lost leg at Wilderness.

Peter Delmar, 17th Wisconsin Infantry, lost leg at Atlanta.

W. H. McFarland, 5th Wisconsin Infantry, lost leg at Chancellorsville.

Eugene Bowen, 92 New York Infantry, lost arm at Cold Harbor.

Geo. W. Baker, 19th Wisconsin Infantry, lost arm at Petersburg.

GENERAL GLEANINGS.

THE nomination of Mr. Harrison was laid down in San Francisco thirty seconds after, it was sent from Chicago, and in London in one minute.

THE latest thing in envelopes is an article which will turn black, blue and red when any inquisitive person attempts to open it by the use of steam or water.

A NEW YORK woman is making quite a success in treating her sex for ugliness. She warrants to render an ugly woman presentable and a plain one fairly handsome.

THE petrified skeleton of a whale over thirty feet long has been discovered by an officer of the Coast Survey on a range of mountains in Monterey County, Cal., over 3,300 feet above sea level.

A SUMMER home at Toms river, where the cash girls in the large stores can enjoy their vacation without any cost to themselves, is the latest charity devised by some of the philanthropic merchants of New York.

THE generally accepted area of London is put at 122 square miles and the estimated population is about 5,000,000, while New York City is 41½ square miles in area, and has a population of 1,500,000. You can determine the relative greatness of both cities by the above figures.

THE Savannah News, in announcing the completion of the Coosa Mountain railroad tunnel, refers to the construction as "one of the most marvelous pieces of civil engineering ever performed in the South." The tunnel is 2,445 feet long, 16 feet wide, clear of posts, and 21 feet high.

A REPORT having crossed the Atlantic that the mustard plaster has been adopted as a means of punishment in the schools of the United States, some of the foreign medical journals are discussing, with amusing gravity, the probable hygienic effects of this "novel mode of juvenile rectification," as one writer calls it.

THE largest bunch of grapes supposed to have been raised in California weighed 9 pounds, but it is said that much heavier bunches have been gathered in some vineyards and thrown into the wine press. Watermelons weighing from 50 to 80 pounds are often sold in the San Francisco markets, and one exhibited last fall weighed 115 pounds.

ON a recent day at the Brighton Beach races there was consumed 3,000 pounds of fowl, 80 dozens of spring chickens, 40 sets of beef ribs, 3,500 pounds of lobsters and 15,000 sandwiches, together with vast amounts of vegetables. To wash this down required 237 kegs of beer, 3 barrels of whisky, 200 cases of champagne and 600 boxes of soft drinks.

EDISON has invented a new dinner clock which talks. Instead of striking the hour it speaks it. At dinner time a voice issues from the clock and says: "Dinner time," also "one o'clock," "two o'clock," etc., as the case may be. Another device which he is perfecting in connection with the clock is that of a female face, which he purposes to set in the face of the clock. The lips of this figure will move at the hour, the head will bow, and the fictitious lady will say: "Good evening, ladies and gentlemen, it is bed-time."

PARLOR AND PANTRY.

IT is not generally understood that bananas—fried, baked or roasted—are very appetizing, and that sliced and placed in a dish with alternate slices of orange they make a most delicious dessert.

HALF an hour for every half pound of pudding is a standard time for boiling. A mealy potato grated while hot and beaten up with milk adds to the lightness of puddings, particularly where they are to be eaten cold.

A VERY pretty handkerchief case is made of a square of pasteboard covered with cotton liberally sprinkled with sachet powder. Cover both sides with canary-colored satin; then crochet a top, in plain open-work, of silk of the same color, and tie at the top with narrow ribbon the same shade also.

SEA FOAM—which is very much liked: Soak one large cupful of tapioca four hours, or over night, in a quart bowl filled with water; then put into a farina kettle and cook until clear, stirring occasionally. When done add one cupful of sugar and a small piece of butter; beat well; add the beaten whites of three eggs and pour into a dish to cool. Eat with cream.

A PRETTY cover for a small table may be made of a central square of old gold satin on which is embroidered in outline stitch, with gold-colored filoselle, a good conventional design. A few thicker bars and roundels of satin stitch are added here and there, just in sufficient numbers to slightly accentuate the pattern. A deep hem of dark brown plush edged with a ball fringe finishes off the edges of the satin. A line of gold-colored feather-stitch is carried along the seams.

SALT for the table may be prevented from getting lumpy by adopting the following measures: Always buy the best powdered table salt and keep it in a very dry place. Before using it for the table spread out the amount required on a plate and set it in the oven to dry. When filling the cellars pass the salt through a glass funnel. Do not press the salt down, but when the cellar is full shake it to level the contents loosely. It is necessary to empty the salt-cellars and repeat the process every few days.

SCRAPS FROM THE SEA.

THE City of New York, recently launched on the Clyde, is the largest vessel in the world, the Great Eastern being condemned to be broken up, and therefore really not in existence. It is 525 feet on the water line, or 560 feet over all, and the gross tonnage is 10,000 tons. A sister ship, the City of Paris, alike in every particular, is now building. Both steamships are owned by the Inman line, and will run between New York and Liverpool.

A MARINE brake has been invented and was recently tested on the Seine. It consists of a cable having attached to it a series of canvas cones which open by the action of the water, and exert an enormous retarding force on the vessel. Thus a steamer running at a speed of 13 knots, was stopped by this appliance in 7 seconds, 34 seconds being required when she stopped by reversing the engines without making use of the brake.

A SCHOONER building at Waldsborough, Me., is expected to be the largest vessel of its kind afloat. It is of the center-board pattern, and will carry five masts. Her length of keel is 225 feet, her breadth is 50 feet, depth of hold 21 feet, and her measurement will be 1,800 tons. Her masts will be of Oregon pine, and her foremasts, mainmast, mizzenmast, spankermast and jigger will be each 115 feet in length. She will have two full decks running the entire length of the vessel and nine hatches.

ENGLISH law carefully regulates the subject of the sailor's grog. Every ship must carry a quantity of lime or lemon juice as an anti-scorbutic, containing fifteen per cent. of palatable fruit sirups, that is, sound rum of a specific gravity fixed by the statute, or sound brandy of a quality similarly fixed. The Board of Trade tells how the grog shall be mixed. One ounce of the lime juice is to be mixed with one ounce of sugar and at least half a pint of water, and must be served out in time for dinner.

Mild, soothing, and healing is Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

A Hint to Puny People.

From their arrival on this planet to their usually early departure from it, people of weak constitutions and angular physiques pass a sort of half-existence. Like dormice they burrow in their home retreats, afraid of cold, constantly afraid that the shadow of the dread reaper will materialize and exact the forfeit which he demands from all sooner or later. No finer medicinal assurance of comparative vigor for the feeble exists than that afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Use with persistence—not with spurts and spasms—this genial and professionally commended tonic will do much toward infusing strength into a puny system, and rounding off scrawny angles in the human figure. Appetite, nerve tranquility and nightly repose are encouraged by it, and a malarial, rheumatic, bilious tendency overcome. It re-establishes digestion and prevents kidney troubles.

Now is the time to buy a baby carriage cheap, $2.50 up, at Wheelock's. They want the room for fall stock.

A SPANIEL'S DEVOTION.

Almost Human Agony of a Dog Over His Master's Death.

The Duc d'Enghien had a spaniel which passionately lamented over his death, and we wonder if Napoleon suffered any qualm of remorse when he read of it fiercely bemoaning its master's untimely fate in the moat at Vincennes. At the first halt the Duc d'Enghien's abductors made their prisoner requested them to send back to Ettenheim for his "dog and his clothes." He did well to ask for his dog, for at Strasburg Napoleon had ordered that his friends and servants were to leave him. His dog, however, since it lacked "the divine power to speak words," was not included in the order. In the brief days of life which remained to him, this speechless friend was his only companion, went with him a prisoner to Paris, and entered Vincennes at his heels. On his arrival there he was depressed, and his dog sidled up to him, and Lamartine says: "The spaniel which he had kept at his side the whole route rested his head on his master's knee." The dog beguiled him out of dark thoughts of his doleful prospects, his spirits rose, and he left the window, out of which he had been disconsolately staring, and called his dog to share his supper with him. The faithful creature was on guard beside him, when, one midnight, he was aroused from his sleep to appear before his judge. The Duke, sure of his innocence, went to the mockery of a trial with sanguine hopes of a speedy release. He did not know that during his trial his grave was being dug. After leaving the judgment hall the prisoner, still unsuspicious of the haste to fulfill the sentence from which he expected a pardon, was talking to Lieutenant Noirot, a soldier who had known his grandfather, the Prince of Conde. A historian says "he played with his dog" while chatting gayly to the soldier. The poor beast had been ill at ease, for some subtle instinct warned it that there was danger afoot. Its dull spirits were raised by its master's assurance; but it was short-lived contentment, for the Duke and his dumb friend were soon parted by death. The prisoner was ordered to follow the commander down a darksome stairway, which led into the moat. The Duke hesitated, but the dog, as usual, followed without question at his master's heels. The Duke, when he reached the trench, realized the truth. He cut a lock of his hair, gave it and a ring to Noirot, to send to his betrothed, Princess Charlotte de Rohan. As three o'clock struck the soldiers fired, and Napoleon's young victim fell. The spaniel, in the dim light—for it was a gloomy March morning, and the moat was lit by a solitary lantern—had not seen its master's face, and was unaware of his evil fate till it saw him dead. In vain it fawned upon him, who, but a few minutes previously, had stroked and commended his pleased favorite. It was with difficulty that the poor animal could be torn from the spot and given to one of the Prince's servants, who took him to the Princess Charlotte.—All the Year Round.

PEACE AND VICTORY.

It Comes Only When Unselfishness Triumphs Over All Low Ambitions.

There is a sublime order in human life as well as in the universe which surrounds and sustains it; an order which comprehends all needs, co-ordinates all action, and provides for all growth. The chemical relations of matter are but imperfect types of the delicacy, the multiplicity and the inclusiveness of moral relations. All things which men touch through any sense, by any thought, in any act, distil some moral quality and react either for good or ill. We are played upon by influences too many for our comprehension, too far-reaching for our foresight. When we seem to be sacrificing things most precious to us we are often receiving them back in some finer and imperishable form; when we seem to be working solely for others we are often serving ourselves in the highest and noblest way.

Doing for others, bearing the burdens of others, identifying ourselves with the struggles and labors of others, help mightily in the working out of our own lives. It is wise to drop resolutely our difficulties at times, to turn aside abruptly from the questions which we are trying to answer; it reinvigorates the soul and gives the mind a new grip on the perplexing problems. Mathematicians carrying on extended calculations sometimes find themselves forced to clear their minds of figures and betake themselves to some other occupation or amusement; when the mind has recovered its tone the tangles of the problem are swiftly straightened out. Every life needs a large and noble diversion from its perplexities and cares; needs a catholic sympathy with others to preserve it from selfishness; a steady and hearty co-operation with others to give its own work breadth and solidity. No sane man lives for himself; sooner or later a life wholly self-centered loses its soundness and becomes distorted and diseased. The two elements of self development and care for the interests of others must be kept in equipoise if harmony, symmetry and largeness of character are to be secured and maintained. The true remedy for morbid self-consciousness, the real refuge from personal grief and loss, are to be found, not in the monastery, as the old ascetics thought, but in closer contact with the suffering world, in more devoted consecration to the welfare of those about us. There is no such efficient help for ourselves as lending a hand to aid our fellows. When Faust had come to the end of his long seeking, he found the happiness which had always eluded him in the giving of himself to the service of men. If was not in self gratification that the tragic problem of his life worked itself out, but by large works for the public welfare. Knowledge, power and passion failed to satisfy; it was only when an unselfish purpose triumphed over all lower ambitions that peace and victory came. Not to be ministered unto, but to minister, was the aim of the divinest life ever lived among men.—Christian Union.
